Spotlight

Cigarette butts, broken glass, bottle caps, liquor “nips,” snack packets, hypodermic needles, lottery tickets, tires, hubcaps, matchbooks, shopping carts, and the occasional computer monitor. All are among the litter likely to be found by the 3,000 volunteers at the Annual Earth Day Charles River Cleanup, on the morning of April 30. Some 30 miles of shoreline and shallows, from the river’s mouth in Boston Harbor nearly to Wildcat Pond in Milford, are scoured before crews gather for a celebratory picnic. The Charles River Watershed Association leads the effort, in partnership with the Charles River Conservancy, Massachusetts Department of Conservation and Recreation, Waltham Land Trust, Esplanade Association, Emerald Necklace Conservancy, and the office of Massachusetts state senator William N. Brownsberger. Volunteer slots fill quickly. To register, visit www.crwa.org/charles-river-clean-up/event-registration.

STAFF PICK: Celebrating the Arts at Harvard

The annual arts extravaganza sponsored by Harvard offers more than 100 events, from live performances of dance, music, and theater to public-art installations; most are free and open to the public. Festivities begin on Thursday, April 28, at 4 P.M. with the Harvard Arts Medal ceremony; President Drew Faust and festival founder, actor, and author John Lithgow ’67, Ar.D. ’05, will honor the 2016 medalist, architect Frank Gehry, Ds ’57, Ar.D. ’00.

Most of the 2,000 art-makers are undergraduates, says Jack Megan, director of the Office for the Arts at Harvard (OFA), which organizes the festival: “The great joy is getting to work with very creative, very diverse, and very inspiring young people.” The weekend lineup includes Hasty Pudding Theatricals, the Harvard Pan-African Dance and Music Ensemble, Mariachi Véritas de Harvard, and the Brattle Street Chamber Players, as well as hands-on “Make Art” stations; concerts by the Silk Road Ensemble and rock and pop groups that bang it out in a “Battle of the Bands”; and an international-dance showcase that opens with a tango contest featuring the Harvard Ballroom Dance Team.

In addition, OFA has made a point of sponsoring art that explores social and political issues—like minority inclusion and gender identification—that have arisen at Harvard and other universities, especially within the last year. “Where Do We Go From Here?” is an interactive art installation of 13 individual, human-sized, Plexiglas boxes, each containing letter-shaped mirrors that, together, spell out “make community.” Despite “the terrible things happening around the world,” Megan notes, “we can still hope to have moments of beauty, creativity, and collaboration. Artists have a contribution to make in creating space for reflection and, ultimately, change.” —N.P.B.
